Question

What 1963 book has been credited with helping to spark second-wave feminism in the United States?

Answer

The Feminine Mystique, by Betty Friedan

"I found The Feminine Mystique absorbingly interesting, pernicious, and important to my own problems and those of many women I know and taught me more about myself than any other book I have ever read. My friend, Sue, Betty Friedan had just quit and received mixed reviews from the major media and yet all sales passed. That's when she sold over a million copies. What Mrs. Freud has done is to close both eyes and ears. The book should be read by every woman, woman teacher, and tell it to us all until we realize what we are. We believe she has done a great service in unmasking the fact that females are not women, we are human beings."

Hedy Adds New Twist to War

Actress Invents Control Device While Toying With Torpedo Idea, Has Patent to Prove It

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 18 (AP)—It could not have been a press agent's stunt, because the timing was too perfect, but the report from London that film actress Hedy Lamarr had patented a radio steering device for torpedoes at least had a certain to back it up.

In an interview, Hedy modestly admitted she did only "creative work on the invention," while the improvements and solutions George Antheil, the real "genius," had a "chemical part."

Now, Hedy was not too clear about how the device worked, but she remembered that she and Antheil sat down on her living room rug with the matches sterilized, the wiring of the invented "thing," the "British flares were over beside territory as soon as they crossed the channel, but German aviators were over friendly territory most of the time." She said, "I just thought, 'If my invention when I tried to think of some way to even the balance for the torpedo. A radio control would do it.'

Hedy asserted that the "control" device works on aerial as well as ground.

She said Hedy works on anything and added that it was "lots of fun improving the invention and watching the pieces sort and put together all the little things makabulos that went into the device." She said "we" had lots of fun, more scientific than going to the movies.

She coyly dodged a query as to whether she and George ever married in presenting the device but did admit that as far as she knew nobody has ever used it yet for any practical purpose.

Question

Which podiatrist born in 1882 founded a Fortune 500 foot care company and is credited with designing over 1,000 foot care products?

Answer

Dr. Scholl (of Dr. Scholl's)

There is a Dr. Scholl Appliance or Remedy for every foot trouble. And, for your convenience, arrangements have now been perfected whereby your own local shoe dealer or department shoe dealer in every locality to recognize the different forms of foot discomforts and to intelligently advise you which one of the Dr. Scholl Appliances is required to insure quick relief and permanent correction.

Dr Scholl's
Foot Comfort Appliances

To Shoe Dealers and Their Clerks:
Arrangements have been completed to give a Post Graduate Course in Practitioners in Indianapolis during the month of October. This course in instruction in Practicodics (the science of foot comfort) was planned and carefully worked out by Dr. W.H. Scholl, of Chicago, Illinois, in order to thoroughly train shoe dealers in their responsibilities in the fundamentals of giving foot comfort through correct shoe fitting, and to teach them how to recognize various internal conditions. The following subjects will be covered:
Anatomy of the Foot and Leg
Abnormal Conditions of the Foot
Causes of Foot Discomforts
Causes of Foot Flatness and mechanical correction
Mechanics of the Foot and Leg
Basic principles of shoe fitting and a method whereby all shoes can be fitted regardless of individual physical and external conditions.

Unless you have already made arrangements do so immediately, addressing American School of Practicodics, Chicago.

This is an unusual opportunity for you to receive a complete scientific knowledge of shoe fitting and foot correction in the short space of time available. It is also an opportunity for you to learn how to sell and in adjusting Dr. Scholl's Scientific Foot Comfort Appliances.

The Scholl Mfg. Co., 213 W. Schiller St., Chicago, Ill.

Bonus Round: Word Origins

Question

Prior to roughly 1600, the word “clue” (originally spelled “clew”) meant “a ball of thread”, but of course it now means “a fact or object that helps to solve a problem or mystery”. By association with which well-known legend did the meaning of “clue” change from “ball of thread” to its current meaning?

Answer

Theseus and the Minotaur, in which Theseus unspools a ball of thread on his way into the labyrinth in order to find his way back out. If your answer included Theseus, the Minotaur, or the labyrinth, you got it right.

Bonus Round: Inventors and Inventions

Question

Alexander Graham Bell is often credited with the invention of the telephone, but as Tony Soprano would remind us, this Italian-American “invented the telephone and he got robbed — everybody knows that”. Indeed, in 2002, House Resolution 269 was passed, which read, “if [this man] had been able to pay the $10 fee to maintain the [patent] caveat after 1874, no patent could have been issued to Bell.” Who was the true inventor of the telephone?
